

email font size 69 comments Recommend 69 Back to Blog home

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 2012
Seven shot, three dead in 10 hours

Seven people were shot - three fatally - on Philadelphia streets in the span of 10 hours from Saturday night to Sunday morning, police said.

The bloodshed began around 6:48 p.m. Saturday when a 28-year-old man was shot several times in the head while in the driver's seat of a Chrysler minivan on Sartain Street near Porter in South Philadelphia, according to police.

The victim, whose name has not been released, was transported to Temple University Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 7:07 p.m.

At 10:21 p.m., police responded to reports of a person with a gun on Vare Avenue near Point Breeze Avenue in South Philadelphia. Once on location, cops found a 37-year-old man who had multiple gunshot wounds to his body.

The man, whose identity has not been released, was taken to the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, where he was pronounced dead at 10:40 p.m.

A double shooting on Broad Street near Ruscomb in the city's Logan section at 12:50 a.m. sent two men to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries.

Police discovered one of the victims, a 30-year-old man, suffering from gunshot wounds to his right hip at the scene. He was taken to Albert Einstein Medical Center, where he was placed in stable condition. The other victim, a 20-year-old man, was taken by a private car to the same hospital where he was treated for a gunshot wound to his right arm, according to police.

The suspect in that case is described as a light-complexioned black man between 25 and 30 and between 5-foot-5 and 5-foot-7. He has a goatee and was wearing a hoodie with gray and black stripes. He may have been driving a blue 1995 Buick, police said.

Around 2:07 a.m., police were called to Federal Street near 15th in Point Breeze where they found a 22-year-old man inside of a house with gunshot wounds to his left side and upper back.

He was taken to Thomas Jefferson University Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 2:34 a.m. Police said the man, whose identity has not been released pending family notification, was outside on Federal Street when he was shot and ran inside of the house to seek cover.

At 3:15 a.m., a man in his 20s was shot once in the groin and once in the buttocks while on Cumberland Street near 12th in North Philadelphia. He was taken to Temple University Hospital where he is listed in critical condition, according to police.

Police also shot a suspect around 4:19 a.m. on 9th Street near Hunting Park Avenue in Hunting Park. That man is in critical condition, but the details of that case were not immediately available.

Posted by Stephanie Farr @ 11:35 AM Permalink

Recommend 69 people recommend this. Be the first of your friends

ABOUT THE PHILLYCONFIDENTIAL TEAM

Dana DiFilippo has covered murder, mayhem and miscellany at the Daily News since 2000. She grew up in Delaware County and studied journalism and photography at Penn State University. E-mail tips to difilid@phillynews.com and follow her on Twitter here.

Stephanie Farr has been reporting for the Daily News since 2007, covering everything from gay porn stars who entered the burglary business to moon trees, skinheads, murders and naked bike rides. She covers crime, both in the city and suburbs, and keeps clippings of bizarre Associated Press articles. Her favorite this year was the story about the drunk in Punksutawney who gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to a dead opossum. E-mail tips to fairs@phillynews.com and follow her on Twitter here.

Phillip Lucas joined the Daily News crime team in 2011. He grew up on the mean streets of Seattle and studied journalism and psychology at Howard University in Washington, D.C. Before landing in the City of Brotherly Love, Phillip was a reporter for The News Journal in Wilmington, Del. Email tips to lucasp@phillynews.com and follow him on Twitter here.

Morgan Zlot is the newest crime reporter at the Daily News, starting in 2011 after interning at the paper twice as a Temple University journalism student. In her past stints at the DN, she covered just about everything, from drunken Phillies fans to a barber shop in a high school to a grisly murder-suicide. She's a born-and-raised Philly girl who grew up in the Northeast. E-mail tips to zlotm@philly.com and follow her on Twitter here.

Share your tips

To send news tips, breaking news pictures or other thoughts to the Philly Confidential team, email phillyconfidential@phillynews.com.